How is testing for COVID-19 completed?

- 1 Place your head against the headrest of your car seat and remain still.
- 2 A swab will be inserted through one of your nostrils until it reaches the back of your nasal passage.
- 3 The swab will be rotated four times to collect a specimen, removed and the process will be repeated through your other nostril.
- 4 Once the specimen collection is completed, the swab will be placed into a container for shipment to the lab.

While we understand that the swab may be uncomfortable, it should not be painful. We ask that you remain completely still while each nostril is swabbed because it is highly important to get a good specimen sample through each of your nostrils.
